

SENATOR WORKS MAKES DEMAND FOR ACTION BY UNITED STATES

California Solon Accuses Congress of Dodging Responsibility and Permitting President to Shoulder Burdens of Issue

WILSON AND CABINET
SAY 'KEEP HANDS OFF'

General Carranza, Through His Washington Representative, Has Promised To Punish Villistas For Murder of Miners

(Associated Press by Federal Wire.)
WASHINGTON, January 15.—"Congress dodged its responsibility in Mexico and permitted it to rest upon the shoulders of the president," Senator Works of California said in his fellow solons yesterday afternoon in a scathing address on the situation created by the wild murder of sixteen American miners in Mexico by villa troops last Tuesday.

"Congress alone has the right to declare war," continued the senator, "for that is what intervention in the south is a rebellious means, and congress alone should shoulder the responsibility for any such action."

A resolution calling for intervention in Mexico, introduced by the California senator, was referred to the committee on foreign relations. Cabinet says "Hands Off".

While the debate in the senate was going on President Wilson called a meeting of his cabinet to consider the Mexican situation. After some discussion it was decided that the United States will, for the present, at least, continue its former attitude of "hands off" and depend upon General Carranza to punish the murders of the miners. It was announced that General Carranza had, through his representative here, promised to punish General Villa for his part in the slaughter.

With the reports of fresh news of foreigners in Mexico and news of the serious anti-Mexican riots in El Paso, danger of a serious disaster is whole at once to a new plan for safeguarding American lives and property in the revolutionary districts.

Attack Upon Administration
This resolution is one of a series of attacks on the administration's Mexican policy which are expected to materialize among the members of the committee on foreign relations is now pending in the senate.

Senator Stone said that he does not expect that American troops will be sent into Mexico unless developments compel it. He considers that the Villistas became enraged at the recognition of Carranza by the Pan-American powers, led by the United States, and determined to force intervention, taking as their excuse the slaughter of Americans and Carranza's government.

Reports from Mexico received by the state department and other officials yesterday say that the Americans who were attacked in Madera are safe, having been able to stand off the Villista force.

It is denied that ten Americans and two English women were murdered. The Madera colony, armed and determined to fight to the last, was assisted by a few Carranza soldiers when the Villistas attacked, and the defenders are reported to have routed the bandits.

Washington, however, was informed yesterday that martial law was not declared late the day before in El Paso as reported. When the rioting became severe, patrol troops were hurried into the streets and used to check disorders.

ROME, January 15.—One of the newest of Austria's scout cruisers, a vessel of the Novara class, was torpedoed and sunk by a French submarine in the Adriatic on Thursday, according to an official announcement by the Italian admiralty yesterday. There are three cruisers of the Novara class, the Salda, Relegand and the Novara, each having been commissioned just after the outbreak of the war. These ships are 408 feet long and of 3500 tons. They carry only light batteries, nine 4-inch guns, but are specially equipped for scouting. The complement of each vessel is 350 men.

When the Austrian vessel was attacked she was in company with a fleet, the vessel of which scattered when the presence of the submarine became known.

It is estimated that the appropriations made this sum to be used in enlarging the slips at the two naval stations and in other work preparatory to commencing construction.

Of this amount Mare Island is to have the use of $500,000. It is estimated that work will have progressed sufficiently at Mare Island to permit the laying down of the battleship keel in October.

EL PASO AGAIN QUIET
AFTER FIERCE RIOTING

Generals Rodriguez and Almeida Said To Have Been Executed In Madera

(Associated Press by Federal Wire.)
EL PASO, January 15.—Mexico will not permit an armed expedition of Americans to enter the country and punish the slayers of the sixteen Americans, who were shot to death by Villa troops last Tuesday.

This attitude, which is that of General Carranza, was made plain yesterday by General Garcia, the consul of the Carranza faction here, in a formal statement in reply to a question sent him by El Paso citizens, who had planned such a course.

El Paso Is Quiet
This city yesterday was quiet, seemingly to catch its breath after the rioting of the night before. General Pershing has reestablished the peace line beyond which no Mexican is allowed to go. Armed guards in large parties are still patrolling the streets of the city.

News reached here in the afternoon that General Jose Rodriguez and Almeida were executed in Madera after their arrest there by a band of Americans acting as defenders of the town against the attack of Villa bandits.

The news came in a despatch to the Carranza command, from General Trevino, Despatcher from Chihuahua says that Villa is now in the Guerrero district with a personal guard of forty men.

Another piece of information made public by Garcia, was that Villa is reported to have issued a warning to all Americans that any found by him west of Chihuahua would be killed on sight. This warning, it is said, was issued by the bandit leader while at Rubio last week.

American Consul Edwards at Juarez announced last night that orders from the state department instructed him to notify all American representatives in Mexico to urge their countrymen to leave that republic at once.

HANA WHARF BADLY DAMAGED BY STORM

Heavy Surf Shifts Woodwork and Smashes Concrete Piers

R. R. Oak, wharf foreman for the department of public works, has reported that the damage done to the Hana wharf by the recent storm was greater than at first expected. In a letter to the acting superintendent of public works, A. C. Wheeler, received yesterday, Mr. Oak says:

"The surf is still pounding the wharf and I find that the woodwork has been shifted bodily more than a foot. Several of the concrete piers have been smashed by the force of the waves and several struts have been shivered."

Immediately on their arrival at Hana wharf foreman and his gang of workers began the task of making temporary repairs to the wharf and succeeded so far as to enable the Claudine to discharge her freight for that port and handle the sugar awaiting her.

INSANE WOMAN CHOKES BABY GIRL TO DEATH

He rescued the little one and found that the life of Toshie was extinct.

Mizuta, the father of the dead child, told the police that for some time the mother has been insane at intervals and that for long something of the kind would happen when she was alone in the house for more than a short period.

Yesterday he was called to town on business and delayed a little longer than he intended to stay. On returning he found one child dead and the other nearly so.

SALVAGE OF $4000 CLAIMED BY NIHAU

Inter-Island Files Action Against Schooner Mawema For Aid
Steamer Gave

An action in admiralty was filed in the federal court yesterday by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company against the American schooner Mawema, now in Hilo harbor. The plaintiff claimed $4000 for the services of the schooner during the recent heavy weather at Hilo and in preventing that vessel from being wrecked, so the Inter-Island asserted.

Marshal Smiddy left in the Lurline yesterday afternoon for Hilo, where he will serve the papers on the master of the Mawema and attach the ship, pending further orders of the admiralty court. Valued at $18,500.

In the complaint the plaintiff asserted that the Mawema is of 450 tons, three masts, and valued at $18,500, and that she is laden with a cargo of lumber for Hilo, the freight charges on which amount to $3000. The schooner's steamer Nihaui, of which Capt. R. Williamson is master, now at Hilo, is of 341 tons, has a crew of thirty-seven persons, besides the master, and is valued at $35,000.

The complaint alleges further that last Sunday, January 3, the Mawema broke loose from her moorings in Hilo harbor and was being driven ashore in imminent danger of being wrecked, when the Nihaui sent a line aboard; that the master of the schooner, whose true name is not known, and who is referred to in the complaint as John Doe, refused the assistance offered by the Nihaui, but offered to purchase the line from the Inter-Island steamer, expecting with it to weather the storm. The Nihaui stood by the schooner, however, ready to assist her, should her pilika continue. The Nihaui refused to sell the line, the complaint states.

Later, as the storm continued unabated, the Mawema flew signals of distress and the Nihaui went to her assistance. The steamer sent several lines aboard the sailing vessel and held her from drifting ashore, rendering this service from Sunday to Tuesday when the storm abated and the schooner was then considered out of peril. For all this service the steamer people now claim $4000. The suit is against the schooner, "her tackle, apparel, machinery, boats, furniture, appurtenances, cargo and freight money."

Marshal Smiddy probably will return in the Lurline Monday morning, leaving the Mawema in custody of some official whom he will appoint, unless the vessel gives bond to cover whatever judgment may be rendered.

ONLY A BACKACHE

At first it may be only a backache, and too many people either wait for it to wear away or try to drive it out with liniment or a plaster. Don't mistake a kidney backache. Put that pain to use. It is too valuable a warning to be overlooked. Suspect your kidneys. The kidneys are in the small of the back, and are quite likely to ache and throb if sore, congested or inflamed. If it is the kidneys that are aching there may be other conditions to confirm the suspicion, such as too frequent, scanty or painful urination, and sediment in the urine; dizzy spells, recurring headaches, nervousness and a dull, tired state. Then it's time to use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50c a box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., or Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.—Adv.

TOO MUCH BOUZE FATAL IN STORM

Mechanic of Hana Loses Life In Sea After Helping Save
Property

(Special Mail to The Advertiser.)
HANA, Maui, January 12.—The terrible storm that stripped Hana from stem to stern brought no disaster in its wake so infinitely sad as the accidental death of one of its very useful citizens, D. K. Kahuna.

The one thing that many think the only thing to brace a man up and make him fit to meet danger and face sudden emergencies was handed out in generous supplies at the beach when the storm was at its height. Many men in the excitement did that which in their more sober moments they would not have done. Kahuna was in the very thick of the struggle to save anything and all things that might be saved. He worked like a giant, but he sought to fortify himself and increase his strength with that which was his undoing.

Saturday night there was a lull with more of the steady stuff, and when morning came his dead body was found thrown up by the sea upon the beach near the boat houses. Just how or when he came to his death no one can just tell, but it is very evident that drink did it. Demon drink has robbed a wife and eight children of a good provider. The town loses a good citizen and a skillful mechanic.

Kahuna was a graduate of Kaneohe and taught in the institution for a time. He was a skillful mechanic, an expert machinist, a public spirited citizen and an all-around good neighbor and friend. He had but one failing and that was his undoing.

CELTIC CHIEF CASE SALVAGE SETTLED

Inter-Island and Miller Reduced
By San Francisco Court;
Matson Affirmed

"Inter-Island reduced to twelve thousand five hundred, Miller reduced to six thousand five hundred. Affirmed otherwise."—Cable message received yesterday morning by the law firm of Smith, Warren & Sutton.

This message indicates that the circuit court of appeals of the ninth circuit at San Francisco has sustained Judge Clemens' decision in the federal court here on June 17, 1913, in the admiralty cases of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, the Miller Salvage Company against the same steamer, and the Matson Navigation Company against the steamer Celtic Chief.

The higher court has reduced the amount awarded by the local court in the first two cases, allowing that in the third to remain as in the earlier decision.

Awards and Reductions
Judge Clemens' award in favor of the Inter-Island was $17,500, reduced by the San Francisco court of appeals to $12,500; the Miller Salvage Company, $8000, reduced to $3500. The Matson Navigation Company's award was for $4000. This is affirmed in its entirety. The three awards given by Judge Clemens totaled $29,500. As decided by the higher court they total $23,000, or a reduction of $6500—about a little over twenty-two per cent.

The Celtic Chief was an iron ship 266.5 feet in length and 30.5 feet beam, and valued at $25,000. She was wrecked on the reef at the entrance of Honolulu Harbor December 6, 1909. At the time she had on a cargo of fertilizer worth $111,000. The three suits were brought against her for salvage.

"The policy or attitude of the San Francisco court is," said a federal official yesterday, "to reduce Hawaiian awards, as, for example, in the Loch Garve case of 1909, in which the award of $15,000 to the Inter-Island Company was cut down to $12,500, and in the Manchuria case of 1908, in which the award of $61,000 was reduced to $31,000."

Judge Clemens' awards in the Celtic Chief amounted to about seventeen per cent of the value of the property salvaged. In the case of the Estabank, in which, in the "seventies," S. G. Wilder made a "strike," the supreme court of Hawaii, Chief Justice Harris being then head of the court, allowed one-third of the amount saved."

Letters Said To Indicate Frequent Payments Made Through German Officer To Conspirators Operating in United States

(Associated Press by Federal Wire.)
WASHINGTON, January 15.—Pro-Prussian announcements called from London that the British authorities had searched Captain von Papan, erstwhile military attache at the German embassy here, recalled at the demand of the United States, and had found on him documents and data apparently connecting him directly with some of the numerous war plots, have excited the greatest interest in official and diplomatic circles.

It is reported that the British government has turned over to Ambassador Papan, to be forwarded to the state department here, a number of documents and data which were taken from him by the British authorities.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, directed to make any statement in the matter, announcing when the accounts from London were handed to him to read: "I don't believe a word of it."

He said that he doubted very much if a single line of any incriminating nature had been found in any papers of the British might have taken from Captain von Papan.

Von Papan sailed from New York on December 25, on the Dutch liner Noordam, which touched at Kinkaid. He is reported to have been overhauled by British secret service men overhauled von Papan's baggage and searched the diplomat's person, securing what are alleged to be copies and originals of important documents.
